

PRACTICE WORKSHEET 1: WALLS TELL STORIES | CLASS 5 ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is the main purpose of forts built in ancient times?
 - a. To serve as schools
 - b. To protect the kingdom from enemies
 - c. To store food grains
 - d. To organize celebrations
 2. What is the name of the structure used for watching enemies from a height in a fort?
 - a. Archway
 - b. Turret
 - c. Watchtower
 - d. Gateway
 3. Which fort in India is famous for its intricate carvings and paintings?
 - a. Red Fort
 - b. Amer Fort
 - c. Agra Fort
 - d. Golconda Fort
 4. What material was primarily used to build the walls of ancient forts?
 - a. Bamboo
 - b. Bricks and stones
 - c. Wood
 - d. Clay
 5. Which ruler is associated with the construction of the Red Fort in Delhi?
 - a. Shah Jahan
 - b. Akbar
 - c. Aurangzeb
 - d. Humayun
-

Fill in the Blanks

1. The _____ is a structure built at the entrance of a fort for security.
 2. _____ were used for pouring hot oil or water on enemies attacking the fort.
 3. The walls of forts are often decorated with _____ and carvings.
 4. _____ forts are examples of the rich history and culture of India.
 5. A _____ is a secret tunnel used to escape during enemy attacks.
-

PRACTICE WORKSHEET 1: WALLS TELL STORIES | CLASS 5 ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

True or False

1. Forts were built only for decoration in ancient times. (True/False)
 2. Secret tunnels in forts were used for trade purposes. (True/False)
 3. Watchtowers in forts were used to observe the movements of enemies. (True/False)
 4. Many forts have been converted into museums or tourist attractions today. (True/False)
 5. Forts were built using only wood and clay. (True/False)
-

Short Questions

1. What was the purpose of building forts in ancient times?
 2. Why were secret tunnels important in forts?
 3. What are some architectural features commonly seen in forts?
 4. How do the carvings and paintings on fort walls tell us about history?
 5. Why are forts considered an important part of cultural heritage?
-

Long Questions

1. Describe the construction and key features of a fort you have studied.
 2. Discuss how forts have helped us learn about the history and lifestyle of people in ancient times.
 3. Why should we preserve forts and historical structures for future generations?
-

PRACTICE WORKSHEET 1: WALLS TELL STORIES | CLASS 5 ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Answer Key

Multiple Choice Questions

1. b. To protect the kingdom from enemies
 2. c. Watchtower
 3. b. Amer Fort
 4. b. Bricks and stones
 5. a. Shah Jahan
-

Fill in the Blanks

1. Gateway
 2. Small openings
 3. Paintings
 4. Historical
 5. Tunnel
-

True or False

1. False
 2. False
 3. True
 4. True
 5. False
-

Short Questions

1. Forts were built in ancient times to protect kingdoms from enemy attacks and provide safety to the people living inside.
 2. Secret tunnels allowed rulers and soldiers to escape during enemy invasions and were often hidden to prevent discovery.
 3. Common features in forts include gateways, watchtowers, secret tunnels, and decorated walls with carvings and paintings.
 4. Carvings and paintings on fort walls depict scenes of daily life, wars, and cultural practices, helping us understand history.
 5. Forts showcase the architectural brilliance and cultural heritage of a bygone era, making them valuable for education and tourism.
-

PRACTICE WORKSHEET 1: WALLS TELL STORIES | CLASS 5 ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Long Questions

1. Construction and Key Features of a Fort: A fort like Amer Fort has thick walls made of sandstone, large gateways, secret tunnels, watchtowers, and a palace inside. Its walls are decorated with intricate carvings and paintings. It was built to protect the kingdom and is an architectural marvel.
2. Learning from Forts: Forts provide insights into ancient warfare, architecture, and daily life. They showcase the advanced engineering and cultural practices of the past and help us understand the lifestyle of rulers and soldiers.
3. Preservation of Forts: Preserving forts ensures that future generations can learn about history, architecture, and culture. It also boosts tourism and instills a sense of pride in our heritage. Efforts like restoring damaged walls and promoting awareness are crucial.